

2026 CITY OF CALUMET CITY SENIOR CITIZEN RESOURCE GUIDE

INTRODUCTION

Mayor Thaddeus M. Jones, the City Council, and the City's administration are pleased to provide this Senior Citizen Information Handbook. As Calumet City's aging population grows, we recognize the need for reliable and accessible information. Many seniors and their families increasingly have questions about what options and services are available to them.

Therefore, this information resource is designed to be a consistent tool in helping to answer those questions and connecting seniors with the resources they need.

As our loved ones age, it can become increasingly challenging to provide them with the care and support they need. Fortunately, there are many community resources available to help seniors and their families navigate this stage of life. In this guide, Calumet City explores the various resources and programs available for the elderly, and how they can benefit both seniors and their caregivers.

The City of Calumet City consistently celebrates its senior citizens with various programs and events throughout the year; and as we grow older, the need for connection and support becomes even more vital. For individuals aged 60 and beyond, being part of a community is not just important, it's essential for maintaining physical, mental, and emotional well-being. The idea of "community" holds greater significance for seniors. Calumet City provides a sense of belonging, an opportunity for social engagement, and access to resources that promote health and happiness.

The City extends its thanks to the department of Community and Economic Development (CED) for this effort; and a special thank you to Sophia Rose Becker-Toro, the City's Purdue University Intern.
